A Letter from MDA'S President & CEO

As we move into what we are calling the “Era of Treatment” for neuromuscular disease, MDA is excited to announce the 2024 MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference, which will be held from March 3-6 at the Hilton Orlando in Florida. We are looking forward to convening, in-person and virtually, an exceptional meeting that brings together leading researchers, clinicians, and industry professionals to share the latest research findings and explore new treatment options, as well as practical considerations for treatment access.

Specifically, the 2024 MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference will provide a comprehensive exploration of pre-clinical, translational, and clinical research and care for individuals with neuromuscular disease (NMD), with particular attention to some of the changes the field is undergoing in response to the approval of new therapies. Alongside our planning committee, session chairs, and speakers we invite you to join us for what promises to be an exceptional conference experience for the NMD community. We look forward to coming together once again to transform the lives of individuals affected by neuromuscular disease.

Steadily, relentlessly, and successfully, the MDA has delivered more and more on the hopes and dreams of those we serve. But one thing has never changed – and never will – that is our commitment to the promise of research and emerging therapies to treat – and one day, cure – neuromuscular disorders.

Sincerely,

Donald S. Wood, PhD

President and CEO

Patient Advocacy & Nonprofit Organizations

To promote greater representation of the NMD community in our 2024 MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference, we are encouraging more representatives from patient advocacy groups. These individuals may or may not be living with a neuromuscular disease and either work or volunteer for a national or international not-for-profit patient advocacy organization that:

- Demonstrates a charitable mission
- Engages in patient advocacy activities
- Provides programs, services, information, and/or support for people living with NMD

These representatives from patient advocacy groups may register for the conference receiving the patient advocacy rate for in-person attendance and will have access to all sessions.

We are also committed to greater community representation in our content and will plan for additional patient advocate speakers and panel members throughout the conference sessions.

NMD Community Participation

Members of the NMD community who are registered with MDA are welcome to participate in the virtual conference at no-cost or may register to attend in-person at the patient/caregiver rate until allotted spaces are filled. Please keep in mind that the level of information presented at this conference will be technical as this is a professional conference not geared for the general public. For those who would prefer scientific presentations geared for a more general audience, please see current listings at Community Events | Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Patient Advocacy Pavilion

MDA's annual professional conference is an opportunity for nonprofit and patient advocacy organizations in the NMD space to convene and collaborate. Virtual and in-person tabletop exhibit booth space will be made available at no cost to the patient advocacy/nonprofit entities that apply to be exhibitors. Space will be made available on a first-come, first-served basis and will be open until all such space has been assigned. All materials to be shared or provided at such exhibition booths must be educational and must follow the guidelines for any other exhibitor in the hall (no fundraising, direct sales, etc.). Because MDA is committed to ensuring that all resources of the patient advocacy community are deployed towards their respective missions of helping those we serve, we do not accept financial support or sponsorship for the conference from other nonprofit patient advocacy groups.

Sponsorship, Advertisements & Promotion

Promotional and sponsorship opportunities are available to interested parties. All sponsorship and advertisement opportunities are designed to provide organization and brand promotion at a variety of levels and price points. This gives our exhibitors and sponsors the opportunity to showcase new products and services, as well as showcase details and demonstrations where applicable. All collateral must be submitted to MDA for approval prior to production.

Sponsorship contributions help support MDA's mission through:

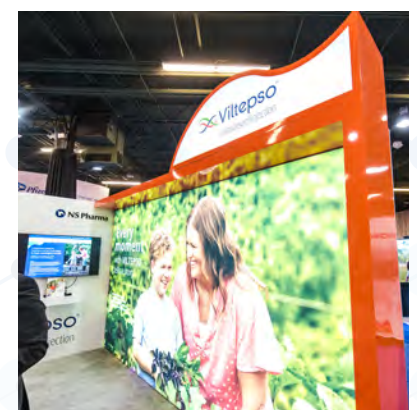

- Research efforts to accelerate development of treatments
- Expert clinical care through MDA's nationwide Care Center Network
- Meaningful community programs and services

For more information on securing your conference sponsorship, please contact Pam Bittner at pbittner@mdausa.org.
