

MDA[®]
CLINICAL & SCIENTIFIC
CONFERENCE

2027
PROSPECTUS

| A Letter from MDA's President & CEO

Progress in neuromuscular disease does not happen in isolation. It happens when the right people are in the same room, working through the same problems at the same time. That is what defines the annual MDA Clinical and Scientific Conference.

Each year, this meeting brings together clinicians, researchers, allied health providers, industry leaders, and key community leaders. They are not just presenting findings, but actively pressure-testing what comes next. The value is in what is shared, and even more importantly, in what is clarified, challenged, and accelerated over the course of a few days.

For attendees, the benefit is immediate and practical. Clinicians and allied health professionals gain insight they can apply to patient care now, translating emerging science into coordinated, day-to-day care that people and families experience directly. Researchers sharpen their work through direct exchange with peers and partners. Industry leaders engage with the realities of clinical implementation. And early-career professionals step into the full complexity of the field, not as observers, but as contributors.

For professionals in the broader research and regulatory communities, the impact runs even deeper. This conference serves as a real-time convergence point where scientific discovery, clinical application, and regulatory thinking align. Conversations that begin here influence trial design, inform regulatory pathways, and surface the barriers that we must address to move therapies forward. It is one of the few environments where these perspectives meet with urgency and candor.

That combination matters. It shortens the distance between discovery and delivery and ensures that innovation is grounded in the lived realities of people with neuromuscular disease. Finally, it reinforces a shared responsibility across sectors to move faster, together.

The MDA Clinical and Scientific Conference continues to set that pace—not by convening a community, but by activating it.

We look forward to welcoming you in 2027.

Sincerely,

Exhibitor Alert: Unauthorized Solicitations

Please be aware that fraudulent companies may attempt to contact exhibitors, claiming to offer access to MDA Conference attendee lists or promoting services such as hotel bookings or booth construction.

Do not respond to these solicitations. MDA does not sell or rent attendee lists under any circumstances.

Only vendors listed in the official MDA Exhibitor Kit are authorized to support our event. We do not share information with third parties, and any outreach claiming to represent MDA without prior confirmation should be treated with caution.

If you receive any suspicious communication or are unsure whether a vendor is affiliated with MDA, please contact us immediately at mdaconference@mdausa.org.

| Patient Advocacy & Nonprofit Organizations

To promote greater representation of the NMD community at our 2027 MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference, we are encouraging more participation from representatives of patient advocacy groups. These individuals may or may not be living with a neuromuscular disease and should either work or volunteer for a national or international not-for-profit patient advocacy organization that:

- Demonstrates a charitable mission
- Engages in patient advocacy activities
- Provides programs, services, information, and/or support for people living with NMD

These representatives from patient advocacy groups may register for the conference at the patient advocacy rate for in-person attendance and will have access to all sessions.

We are also committed to greater community representation in our content and will plan for additional patient advocate speakers and panel members throughout the conference sessions.

Solicitation Policy for Patient Advocacy Partners

To maintain the integrity of our sponsor relationships and ensure a respectful environment for all participants, patient advocacy partners attending the 2027 MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference are strictly prohibited from soliciting sponsorships or funding of any kind from current or past conference sponsors for any activities or initiatives related to the conference—whether on-site or off-site—during the course of the event. Any organization found in violation of this policy will be prohibited from participating in future MDA conferences or related events.

NMD Community Participation

Members of the NMD community who are registered with MDA are welcome to participate in the virtual conference at no cost or may register to attend in-person at the patient/caregiver rate until allotted spaces are filled. Please keep in mind that the level of information presented at this conference will be technical as this is a professional conference not geared for the general public. For those who would prefer scientific presentations geared for a more general audience, please see current listings at Community Events | Muscular Dystrophy Association.

Patient Advocacy Pavilion

The MDA Clinical & Scientific Conference is an opportunity for nonprofit and patient advocacy organizations in the NMD space to convene and collaborate. Virtual and in-person tabletop exhibit booth space will be made available at no cost to the patient advocacy/nonprofit entities that apply to be exhibitors. Space will be made available on a first-come, first-served basis and will be open until all such space has been assigned. All Patient Advocacy Pavilion tables include two (2) complimentary Exhibit Hall Only badges. All materials to be shared or provided at such exhibition booths must be educational and must follow the guidelines for any other exhibitor in the hall (no fundraising, direct sales, etc.). Because MDA is committed to ensuring that all resources of the patient advocacy community are deployed towards their respective missions of helping those we serve, we do not accept financial support or sponsorship for the conference from other nonprofit patient advocacy groups.

| Sponsorship, Advertisements & Promotion

Promotional and sponsorship opportunities are available to interested parties. All sponsorship and advertisement opportunities are designed to provide organization and brand promotion at a variety of levels and price points. This gives our exhibitors and sponsors the opportunity to showcase new products and services, as well as showcase details and demonstrations where applicable.

Sponsorship contributions help support MDA's mission through:

- Research efforts to accelerate development of treatments
- Expert clinical care through MDA's nationwide Care Center Network
- Meaningful community programs and services

Agency Engagement Policy

Please note that MDA does not provide program briefings or onboarding sessions for third-party agencies. If a sponsor engages an external agency, the sponsor is responsible for ensuring that the agency is fully informed about MDA's sponsorship guidelines, program structure, deliverables, and all expectations before any outreach to MDA occurs.

To streamline communication and avoid delays, each sponsor must designate a Single Point of Contact (SPOC). All inquiries, approvals, and coordination should be routed through this SPOC. If additional internal teams or departments are brought into the project after the Letter of Agreement is signed, it is the sponsor's responsibility to onboard those teams and ensure they have the correct information before contacting MDA.

When agencies or internal teams reach out to MDA without identifying the sponsor they represent, or without appropriate context or alignment, MDA cannot commit to timely responses. MDA is not responsible for managing communication among sponsor teams or their external partners.

For more information on securing your conference sponsorship, please contact Pam Conley at pconley@mdausa.org.

Industry Forums

NEW! Updated Industry Forum Guidelines

All 2026 sponsors participated in a structured Industry Forum assignment process determined by total prior-year conference investment related to the 2026 MDA Conference. Investment categories considered included Industry Forums, exhibit booth investment, and other sponsorship and branding opportunities, excluding conference registration fees.

Industry Forum requests were reviewed in descending order of investment and awarded based on ranking order, submitted preferences, and remaining availability. The Industry Forum assignment process was communicated to eligible sponsors beginning in May 2026 and concluded with the submission deadline of July 13, 2026.

Any remaining Industry Forum inventory, if available, following completion of the assignment process will be made available with the official release of the 2027 Conference Prospectus on July 29, 2026, at 12:00 p.m. ET. Available Industry Forum opportunities will be offered on a first-come, first-served basis, and requests must be submitted via email to Pam Conley at pconley@mdausa.org.

Industry Forums provide an opportunity to present an educational topic related to neuromuscular disease (NMD) during breakfast or lunch. Show your organization's commitment to the NMD community through this exclusive opportunity. MDA does not offer CME credit for these programs.
